Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Moreover, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Furthermore, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our expectation is that there be at least one female director on the board for a company of this size. Also, executive pay is not in line with company performance because the company has not adequately responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote results. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time.

Voter Rationale: The board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Furthermore, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. ---	--	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. 2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years.
4	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	SH	Against	For

5	Report on Climate Lobbying	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Although the company has a climate related lobbying report, they stop short of identifying several trade association relationships as a material risk. Moreover, the report fails to include analysis of lobbying conducted by those organizations and any 527 organizations that would lobby on the company's behalf. Greater transparency would be welcomed.

Voter Rationale: A vote AGAINST this resolution is warranted because of the following reasons: * The Audit and Remuneration Committees are not fully independent; * An Executive Director sits on Remuneration Committee; * The annual report does not provide a detailed breakdown of the Directors' individual emoluments paid during the year under review; and * The terms of the notional options granted to the CEO and former CFO during the year were not publicly disclosed. Shareholders should note that there is a legacy matter concerning the non-existence of the Managing Director's service contract.

Voter Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the authorized shares of common stock will not be proportionally reduced in connection with the reverse stock split, and the effective increase in the number of authorized and unissued shares of common stock is excessive, especially when considered in conjunction with the proposed increase in common stock (Item3).
5	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, reducing the strike price of options already granted after the stock price has fallen undermines any employee incentive strategy and is not aligned with the interests of shareholders. Moreover, plan renewal should be subject to shareholder approval. Furthermore, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Also, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Additionally, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Lastly, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.

	Voter Rationale: Executives from acquired companies are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees and should be considered affiliated directors. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Moreover, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Furthermore, executive directors are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. Voter Rationale: The corporate governance committee has permitted a poison pill. The best defense against a take-over is strong management and a successful strategy. Where poison pills are adopted, they should be approved by shareholders prior to deployment, include independent oversight, and last for a limited time. Also, the board imposed a forum selection clause without prior shareholder approval. The corporate governance committee should oppose measures that restrict investors' access to courts, and reverse the measure or, at the very least, put the matter to an investor vote. In addition, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Furthermore, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Lastly, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. In addition, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period. Likewise, substantial pay-outs under incentive schemes should only be available for superior performance. Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval.

7.1	Reelect Juan Jose Brugera Clavero as Director	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Additionally, the board should appoint a Lead Independent Director to establish appropriate checks and balances on the Board, support the Chairman, ensure orderly succession process for the Chairman, and act as a point of contact for shareholders, non-executive directors and senior executives where normal channels of communication through the board Chairman are considered inappropriate.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Moreover, the Company should put in place a policy to increase gender diversity on the board. Our expectation is that female directors should comprise at least 30% of the board.
7.4	Reelect Javier Lopez Casado as Director	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Likewise, the audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.
8	Amend Remuneration Policy	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: All exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Additionally, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance. Also, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period.
9	Advisory Vote on Remuneration Report	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Long-term incentive awards should be used to incentivise long-term performance and should not be allowed to vest within 3 years since the date of grant. Likewise, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Additionally, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. Furthermore, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period. Moreover, the company should put in place a procedure which would enable it, should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions on the part of any of its executive directors and other key managers which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders, to ensure that any funds wrongfully obtained in such manner are repaid to it. Lastly, remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance.

Voter Rationale: While we note the outreach conducted by the company following the low say on pay result at the last AGM, we remained concerned about several aspects of the company's executive compensation. The company has not provided any public commitment to limiting one-off grants in the future, which has led to a significant increase in overall quantum for executives. Furthermore, while the company has amended the STI and LTI based off feedback from investors, we note that these changes have introduced further discretion into the annual bonus and introduced shorter performance measurements into the long term equity grants. We would expect to see robust disclosure of any assessment used for the annual bonus payouts. Given that we remain concerned with the overall quantum available to the CEO and other NEOs, the lack of public commitment regarding one-off grants, and some of the structural changes to the short and long term incentive plans, we will not support this proposal.
4	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job.
5	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Holders of significant share capital should be entitled to call a special meeting. A total holding requirement of 5% is a suitable threshold to prevent abuse.

Voter Rationale: Executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.
2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
3	Approve Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.
4	Approve Non-Employee Director Stock Option Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Share options should not be granted to non-executive directors as this may compromise their independence and ability to hold management accountable. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.
8	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting to 10%	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: The ability to call special meetings would enhance shareholder rights, although our preference is for the lower threshold of 10% proposed in this shareholder proposal.

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Also, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years.

13	Approve Remuneration Policy of CEO and Executive Corporate Officers	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Further, the remuneration policy should provide details of the rules governing the award of the annual and long-term variable incentives, any exceptional components and termination arrangements. Also, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Additionally, all cash or share-based awards and payments that fall outside the company's remuneration policy should require ex-ante shareholder approval. Likewise, the company should put in place a procedure which would enable it, should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions on the part of any of its executive directors and other key managers which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders, to ensure that any funds wrongfully obtained in such manner are repaid to it.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. The board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Moreover, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. The company provided limited disclosure with respect to the annual incentive program, which is particularly concerning given that bonuses were earned above target. In addition, equity awards are entirely time-vesting. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. In addition, reducing the strike price of options already granted after the stock price has fallen undermines any employee incentive strategy and is not aligned with the interests of shareholders. Moreover, plan renewal should be subject to shareholder approval. Furthermore, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Likewise, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Finally, the company fails to set adequate net zero GHG emissions reduction targets. Investors are unable to determine whether the company is adequately addressing material climate risks and opportunities. Accordingly, we are holding the Lead Independent Director responsible.

JOANN, Inc.

Proposal Number	Proposal Text	Proponent	Mgmt Rec	Vote Instruction
-----------------	---------------	-----------	----------	------------------

Voter Rationale: For controlled companies, the board should include at least 33% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Former employees or company founders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board and the pop-up supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Moreover, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

---	--	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. In addition, executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
3	Ratify PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
4	Adopt Fossil Fuel Financing Policy Consistent with IEA's Net Zero 2050 Scenario	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Climate change presents ongoing and serious risks to shareholder value. Consistency with the IEA's NZE—to meet the net zero energy transition, keep warming under 1.5 degrees, and avoid massive risk to shareholder value—may demand a policy commitment like the one being proposed.
5	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Holders of significant share capital should be entitled to call a special meeting. A total holding requirement of 5% is a suitable threshold to prevent abuse.
6	Require Independent Board Chair	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Appointing a fully independent chairman creates a balance of power that is more conducive to long-term performance. A board headed by management cannot reasonably provide the best oversight and evaluation of management's performance.

Voter Rationale: Directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders.. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. In addition, the board imposed a forum selection clause without prior shareholder approval. The corporate governance committee should oppose measures that restrict investors' access to courts, and reverse the measure or, at the very least, put the matter to an investor vote. Moreover, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.

1.1	Elect Director Richard D. Kinder	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The company fails to set Paris-aligned medium- and long-term reduction targets. Investors are unable to determine whether the company is adequately addressing material climate risks and opportunities. As of the 2022 Company Assessment, Kinder Morgan has not met a number of CA100+ net zero criteria. Furthermore, the board should appoint a Lead Independent Director to establish appropriate checks and balances on the Board, support the Chairman, ensure orderly succession process for the Chairman, and act as a point of contact for shareholders, non-executive directors and senior executives where normal channels of communication through the board Chairman are considered inappropriate.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a reasonable sunset requirement, the problematic capital structure, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. In addition, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. 1	Elect Director Charles R. Trimble	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.
Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. Furthermore, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.
3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. Also, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period.

Voter Rationale: For controlled companies, the board should include at least 33% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the problematic capital structure, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the bylaws, and the classified board, each of which adversely impact shareholder rights. Moreover, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, the CEO's pay was very large due to a one-time performance-based grant. However, the entire award is based on individual performance, measured annually. In addition, while the short-term incentive program was primarily performance-based, the CEO's target bonus was excessive. Also, executive pay is not in line with company performance because the company has not adequately responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote results. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, reducing the strike price of options already granted after the stock price has fallen undermines any employee incentive strategy and is not aligned with the interests of shareholders. Also, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Additionally, incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Lastly, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job.

	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director.

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. All exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
Voter Rationale: The plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.
5	Require Independent Board Chair	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Appointing a fully independent chairman creates a balance of power that is more conducive to long-term performance. A board headed by management cannot reasonably provide the best oversight and evaluation of management's performance.

5	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. In addition, reeducing the strike price of options already granted after the stock price has fallen undermines any employee incentive strategy and is not aligned with the interests of shareholders. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Also, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Lastly, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Finally, companies should not extend vesting periods or allow re-testing of performance targets because this weakens the effectiveness of incentive schemes.
4	Report on Lobbying Payments and Policy	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: The company provides reasonable disclosure of its political donations. However, it should enhance transparency around its public policy priorities, as well as its key relationships with trade associations that engage on lobbying on its behalf.

Voter Rationale: Executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.
1.6	Elect Director T. Jefferson Cunningham, III	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, as this nominee is a former executive of an acquired company we do not consider independent, we are still opposing this nominee because for widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity.

Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we are still opposing this nominee because executives from acquired companies are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees and should be considered affiliated directors. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, for widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Moreover, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future.

	Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. 	Voter Rationale: Severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. All exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Recent modified NEO incentive agreements now include a provision similar to problematic single-trigger cash severance. In addition, the payouts under the agreements were increased for certain NEOs.

Voter Rationale: Overall, while we support steps taken to set an absolute scope 3 target, this target and the operational emissions intensity targets remain short of the decarbonization required to meet a 1.5C scenario. Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity.
1.2	Elect Director Robert J. Dwyer	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Furthermore, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.
2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
3	Ratify Ernst & Young LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
4	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: Holders of significant share capital should be entitled to call a special meeting. A total holding requirement of 5% is a suitable threshold to prevent abuse
5	Report on Efforts to Reduce Plastic Use	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: Product take-back and recycling present ongoing risks and opportunities to long-term shareholder value. Additional information, including clear recycling targets, is merited.
7	Report on Use of Gestation Stalls in Pork Supply Chain	SH	Against	Abstain
	Voter Rationale: The company publicly made a commitment in 2012 to move away from the full-time use of pig gestation crates in its supply chain by 2022 but has moved back that goal to 2024. However, the company is adequately communicating to shareholders its goals, progress, and definition of eliminating pork from pregnant sows kept entirely in gestation stalls from its supply chain.
8	Report on Third-Party Civil Rights Audit	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: An independent civil rights audit would help shareholders better assess the effectiveness of McDonald's efforts to address the issue of any inequality in its workforce and its management of related risks.
9	Report on Lobbying Payments and Policy	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: Comprehensive, aggregate disclosure on political spending is best practice. Disclosure should include all state and local donations including support for 527 organizations and ballot initiatives. In addition, the company should identify key relationships with trade associations that engage in lobbying on the corporation's behalf, as well as describe its policies and processes for giving. We ask that the board provide ultimate oversight for political donations.

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. In addition, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Furthermore, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Furthermore, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. 14	Commission Assessment of Audit and Risk Oversight Committee	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Meta has outlined a number of risks that are material to its business, including privacy, data use, algorithms, and advertising. In 2019, the FTC imposed a $5 billion fine for privacy violations; furthermore, other controversies include Facebook allowing business to advertise smoking and extreme weight loss to children as young as 13, evidence that militia groups are using Facebook to recruit members, and the Cambridge Analytica scandal. The Audit & Risk Oversight Committee is tasked with oversight of the major ways in which the company's products could harm or undermine public safety or the public interest. MGE Energy, Inc.

Proposal Number	Proposal Text	Proponent	Mgmt Rec	Vote Instruction
Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: On early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
4	Commission an Independent Study on the Value of Distributed Solar in the Company's Electric Service Territory	SH	Against	Abstain
Voter Rationale: While we are generally supportive of greater transparency regarding the management of climate-related risks, the company appears to be adequately addressing its risks related to climate change and appears to be actively working to transform its energy mix away from coal-fired power and toward higher percentages of renewable.

---	----------------------------	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. In addition, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.

	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

	Voter Rationale: While we appreciate that the company has introduced performance shares into its long term plan, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
4	Report on the Feasibility of Transferring Intellectual Property	SH	Against	Abstain
	Voter Rationale: While we agree that broad access to Covid-19 vaccines through equitable distribution is important for worldwide global health and safety, we believe the company has taken steps to make its vaccines readily available. The company has partnered with Covax to supply vaccines, has worked with other companies via partnerships, and has pledged to not enforce patents for manufacturing to low and middle income countries in the Gavi Covax advance market commitment. Furthermore, it has been transparent around the hurdles to vaccine distribution, including vaccine hesitancy and distribution requirements of mRNA vaccines.

1.1 Elect Director Joseph A. Onorato Mgmt For Against

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future.

2 Ratify KPMG LLP as Auditors Mgmt For Against

Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

3 Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation Mgmt For Against

Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. All exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. 1.1	Elect Director Martin Edwards	Mgmt	For	Withhold
	Voter Rationale: Directors are expected to hold only a small number of directorships and ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their role properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights.
	Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

5	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Plan renewal should be subject to shareholder approval. In addition, reducing the strike price of options already granted after the stock price has fallen undermines any employee incentive strategy and is not aligned with the interests of shareholders. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Furthermore, incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Additionally, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

2	Ratify PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

---	--	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years.

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: Severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board structure and the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, the board's failure to remove the problematic capital structure or subject it to a less onerous sunset requirement. In addition, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Given that the departure of a female director was recent, we will keep this matter under review. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we will still oppose this nominee because the corporate governance committee has permitted a poison pill. The best defense against a take-over is strong management and a successful strategy. Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board and the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: Remuneration policy allows cliff-vesting of awards, thus failing to encourage progressive performance. Higher vesting levels should be linked to scaled performance targets. Also, if granted, payments to former executives should be subject to appropriate performance targets and triggering events that are in line with market best practice. Moreover, any increase in the size of awards under the short-term/long-term incentive scheme(s) should be accompanied by a corresponding increase in performance expectations. Furthermore, it is inappropriate for several voting items to be bundled into one resolution. Shareholders should be able to vote each item separately. Likewise, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. In addition, the company should put in place a procedure which would enable it, should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions on the part of any of its executive directors and other key managers which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders, to ensure that any funds wrongfully obtained in such manner are repaid to it. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the charter and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

1.2	Elect Director Jay Lichter	Mgmt	For	Abstain

Voter Rationale: Former employees or company founders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Furthermore, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

1i	Elect Director Robert A. Stine	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we will still oppose this nominee because executive pay is not in line with company performance because the company has not adequately responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote results. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time.
2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: Directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders.. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given that the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board structure and the supermajority vote requirements to amend the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. Voter Rationale: Executives from acquired companies are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees and should be considered affiliated directors. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Furthermore, we require companies in this sector to set targets on scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions that bring them in line with a 1.5C scenario and are holding the Chair of the Audit Committee responsible.

Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated.
5	Adopt GHG Emissions Reduction Targets Aligned with the Paris Agreement Goal	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Climate change presents ongoing and serious risks to shareholder value. Additional information on the company's strategy and competitive positioning is merited. Additional information on the company's GHG emissions reduction efforts would allow investors to better understand how the company is managing its transition to a low carbon economy and climate change related risks.

Voter Rationale: Directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders.. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Moreover, executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.

2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
3	Ratify PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

1.1	Elect Director Luke Corning	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights.

1.2	Elect Director Barry Lefkowitz	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company's bylaws do not permit shareholders to amend the bylaws. Moreover, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, there is an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment underscored by disclosure concerns.

The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future.

---	--------------------------	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: Incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. In addition, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job.

Voter Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although pay and performance were reasonably aligned for the year in review, there are significant concerns identified with respect to the terms of the former CEO's separation agreement. Pursuant to the agreement, the board lowered the exercise prices of outstanding stock options without obtaining shareholder approval, which is considered a problematic pay practice. Additional problematic actions are also identified, as the board extended the term of outstanding options beyond their original expiration date and provided the former CEO with severance payments and benefits that are significantly greater than the payments and benefits the former CEO was otherwise entitled to under his existing arrangements upon an involuntary termination.

1.1	Elect Director John C. Malone	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.

Voter Rationale: We expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Likewise, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. Furthermore, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Lastly, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. 1	Elect Director Eric Schmidt	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: We expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our expectation is that there be at least one female director on the board for a company of this size. In addition, executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time. Moreover, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, for an ongoing material governance failure. The company's governing documents restrict shareholders ability to amend the bylaws. Furthermore, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability. Also, in the context of increasingly complex international accounting standards, the audit committee benefits from members who have a good and recent understanding of the accounting rules and of the audit process.
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Furthermore, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Lastly, we voted against this director as a member of the audit committee because shareholders should be given the opportunity to approve the auditors annually.

Voter Rationale: Abstain. We support the direction of this climate action plan, particularly the ambition shown by the 2030 scope 1 and 2 target and associated capital expenditure on decarbonisation. We also acknowledge the progress represented by further disclosing technological potential pathways for reducing scope 3 emissions. However, given the significance of these emissions and the progress made elsewhere in the sector on scope 3 commitments, we would like to at least see the company setting a long term net zero target. Given the constant change in climate action globally we also request an annual vote on progress against this strategy, to accompany the vote every 3 years on the climate action plan itself.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company went public with a dual-class capital structure with unequal voting rights and has not subjected the structure to a reasonable sunset provision. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: Executive pay is not in line with company performance because the company has not adequately responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote results. Voter Rationale: Executive pay is not in line with company performance because the company has not adequately responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote results. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time

Voter Rationale: Executive pay is not in line with company performance because the company has not adequately responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote results. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

2	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.
5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
6	Require Independent Board Chair	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Appointing a fully independent chairman creates a balance of power that is more conducive to long-term performance. A board headed by management cannot reasonably provide the best oversight and evaluation of management's performance.
7	Oversee and Report a Racial Equity Audit	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: An independent civil rights audit would help shareholders better assess the effectiveness of Salesforce's efforts to address the issue of any inequality in its workforce and its management of related risks.

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. 3	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

1.2	Elect Director Jack Langer	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Furthermore, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval.

Voter Rationale: Executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. There are significant concerns surrounding the extraordinary magnitude of CEO pay, the lack of a disclosed cap on the CEO's bonus and the lack of key disclosures for both bonuses and equity awards. 1a	Elect Director Ted W. Love	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.
1b	Elect Director Daniel G. Welch	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.
2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval.
3	Ratify PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. In addition, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. 3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

1.3	Elect Director Donna D. Fraiche	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company's governing documents prohibit or restrict shareholders ability to amend the company bylaws.
1.4	Elect Director William A. Lamkin	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company's governing documents prohibit or restrict shareholders ability to amend the company bylaws.
2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders
3	Amend Restricted Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. 2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years.

---	--	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. Moreover, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

	Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders Furthermore, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

1.2	Elect Director Pascal Levensohn	Mgmt	For	Withhold

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we will still oppose this nominee because changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board and the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Furthermore, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director.
