1b	Elect Director Mathai Mammen	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a reasonable sunset requirement, the dual-class capital structure, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights.
1c	Elect Director Shehnaaz Suliman	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a reasonable sunset requirement, the dual-class capital structure, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.
3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company's governing documents prohibit or restrict shareholders ability to amend the company bylaws. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. 1.1	Elect Director Timothy M. Haley	Mgmt	For	Withhold
	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, which adversely impacts shareholder rights.
	Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. Moreover, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. All exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

3	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Furthermore, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job.

2	Ratify PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years.
4	Report on Environmental Costs and Impact on Diversified Shareholders	SH	Against	Abstain
Voter Rationale: Although we are generally supportive of proposals enhancing environmental action, the company appears to disclose sufficient information for shareholders to assess how it's managing environmental risks. A study evaluating how environmental costs impact the financial returns of diversified shareholders would be better undertaken by regulators and the scientific community.

Voter Rationale: Holders of significant share capital should be entitled to call a special meeting. A total holding requirement of 5% is a suitable threshold to prevent abuse.
5	Require Independent Board Chair	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Appointing a fully independent chairman creates a balance of power that is more conducive to long-term performance. A board headed by management cannot reasonably provide the best oversight and evaluation of management's performance.

1.2	Approve Remuneration Report (Non-Binding)	Mgmt	For	Against
-----	---	------	-----	---------

*Voter Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration report is warranted because: * There is limited ex-post disclosure to explain the evolution of variable payouts versus company performance. * Options/Full value awards vest over less than three years. * No caps on variable compensation are disclosed. * Non-executive directors receive stock options.*

5.1.1	Reelect Douglas Williams as Director and Board Chair	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: Board elections (Items 5.1.1-5.1.9) A vote AGAINST Douglas Williams is warranted because he holds an excessive number of mandates at listed companies. Votes FOR the remaining nominees are warranted due to a lack of further concerns. Committee elections (Items 5.2.1-5.2.3) A vote AGAINST Douglas Williams is warranted because his election to the board does not warrant support. Votes FOR Tom Graney and Roy Twyman are warranted due to a lack of concerns.

6.1	Approve Creation of CHF 400,000 Pool of Authorized Capital with or without Exclusion of Preemptive Rights	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: Item 6.1 A vote AGAINST the proposed authorization is warranted because the issuance request would allow for a capital increase without preemptive rights for up to 22.3 percent of the issued share capital. Item 6.2 A vote FOR the proposed authorization is warranted.

6.3	Approve Increase in Conditional Capital Pool to CHF 96,000 for Employee Benefit Plans	Mgmt	For	Against
-----	---	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: A vote AGAINST this resolution is warranted because the terms of the company's current incentive plans do not provide sufficient alignment with shareholders' long-term interests.

7	Transact Other Business (Voting)	Mgmt	For	Against

*Voter Rationale: A vote AGAINST is warranted because: * This item concerns additional instructions from the shareholder to the proxy in case new voting items or counterproposals are introduced at the meeting by shareholders or the board of directors; and * The content of these new items or counterproposals is not known at this time. Therefore, it is in shareholders' best interest to vote against this item on a precautionary basis.*

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. Voter Rationale: Former employees or company founders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. In addition, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. 1a	Elect Director Haiping Dun	Mgmt	For	Withhold

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: Severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, the board imposed a forum selection clause without prior shareholder approval. The corporate governance committee should oppose measures that restrict investors' access to courts, and reverse the measure or, at the very least, put the matter to an investor vote. Furthermore, the company faces significant controversies related to cases of alleged sexual harassment and discrimination. Activision is currently facing a lawsuit by the California Department of Fair Employment and Housing, is under investigation by the SEC for its handling of sexual harassment and discrimination, and recently settled a lawsuit filed by the EEOC. While the company has published a 2021 ESG report providing an update on 'Recent Workplace Concerns', the actions appear reactive. We have significant concerns surrounding the risk management and transparency of these issues, as well as additional potential scrutiny as the transaction with Microsoft continues. Given the severity of the lack of oversight on these issues, we are holding the Chair of the Audit committee accountable.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Specifically, given the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impact shareholder rights. Also, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, the CEO received sizable equity awards, majority of which are subject to time-vesting. 3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval.
Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

-----	------------------------------	------	-----	----------

Voter Rationale: For controlled companies, the board should include at least 33% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company's governing documents do not permit shareholders to amend the bylaws and include provisions that erect hurdles beyond those set forth in Rule 14a-8 which make it more difficult for a shareholder to include any precatory proposals on the company's proxy ballot. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. Also, incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: There are concerns around severance, tax gross-ups, and equity award treatment. Although NEOs' potential cash severance amounts are not excessive, they represent a recent enhancement as NEOs previously were not entitled to change-in-control severance. Further, two NEOs are estimated to receive problematic excise tax gross-ups, also the result of a recent agreement. Lastly, NEOs' outstanding performance equity awards will convert at an assumed maximum performance level, without compelling rationale disclosed in the proxy.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. All exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Furthermore, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the charter and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, the governing documents prohibit shareholders' ability to amend the bylaws.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the charter and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, the governing documents prohibit shareholders' ability to amend the bylaws. Lastly, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.
3	Approve Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: Incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. In addition, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Also, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.
5	Submit Severance Agreement (Change-in-Control) to Shareholder Vote	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: Companies should request approval of compensation policies covering severance packages and signing bonuses from shareholders. The prospect of separating the voting rights of a merger or acquisition from the compensation packages associate with it is welcome.

Also, remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance. Further, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period. Moreover, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the supervisory board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors, to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. We do not consider employee-elected directors under the co-determination system to be fully independent. . Also, this director is not an independent director, yet sits on an audit committee that is majority non-independent. 2	Ratify Ernst & Young LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
	Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders
5	Report on Lobbying Payments and Policy	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: The company provides reasonable disclosure of its political donations. However, it should enhance transparency around its public policy priorities, as well as its key relationships with trade associations that engage on lobbying on its behalf.
6	Report on Climate Lobbying	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: Climate change presents ongoing and serious risks to shareholder value. The company and its shareholders are likely to benefit from a review of how the company's and its trade associations' lobbying positions align with Paris Agreement, in light of risks to the company caused by climate change and the company's public position.

	Voter Rationale: Shareholders would benefit from increased disclosure regarding how the company is managing climate-related water risks.
9	Oversee and Report a Third-Party Racial Equity Audit	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: An independent racial equity audit would help shareholders better assess the effectiveness of Alphabet's efforts to address the issue of any inequality in its workforce and its management of related risks.
10	Report on Risks Associated with Use of Concealment Clauses	SH	Against	Abstain
	Voter Rationale: While we are generally supportive of greater transparency regarding the use of concealment clauses, the company provides enough information on concealment clauses to inform shareholders about its risks related to the use of concealment clauses.
11	Approve Recapitalization Plan for all Stock to Have One-vote per Share	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: "One share, one vote" is a fundamental element of good corporate governance. Companies should not create shares with impaired or enhanced voting rights.
13	Report on Risks of Doing Business in Countries with Significant Human Rights Concerns	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: The company faces risks related to human rights in its global operations. Good practice includes developing a clear code of practice, along with monitoring and effective disclosure to ensure that those risks are managed effectively and communicated to shareholders.
14	Report on Managing Risks Related to Data Collection, Privacy and Security	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: Shareholders would benefit from increased disclosure regarding how the company is managing data collection, privacy, and security risks.
15	Disclose More Quantitative and Qualitative Information on Algorithmic Systems	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: The company has faced scrutiny over biases in its algorithmic systems and increased reporting would assist shareholders in assessing progress and management of related risks.
16	Commission Third Party Assessment of Company's Management of Misinformation and Disinformation Across Platforms	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: The company faces risks related to human rights in its global operations. Good practice includes developing a clear code of practice, along with monitoring and effective disclosure to ensure that those risks are managed effectively and communicated to shareholders.
18	Report on Steps to Improve Racial and Gender Board Diversity	SH	Against	Abstain
	Voter Rationale: While we are generally supportive of greater transparency regarding racial and gender diversity, the board's Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee states a commitment to diversity in hiring board members, the company is not significantly lagging its peers in board diversity, and it provides sufficient disclosure on board diversity data.
21	Report on Policies Regarding Military and Militarized Policing Agencies	SH	Against	Abstain
	Voter Rationale: While we would like to see additional transparency about the company's customer end-use due diligence to ensure customer alignment with the company's AI Principles, a reassessment of the company's policy to pursue contracts with government agencies does not appear to be in shareholders' interests.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. Voter Rationale: Executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Annual incentives rely heavily on committee discretion and FY21 equity awards lack performance vesting criteria. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

1a	Elect Director Steven W. Kohlhagen	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.
2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. In addition, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. In addition, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Moreover, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Voter Rationale: Executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.

---	--------------------------	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. Furthermore, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

4	Advisory Vote on Say on Pay Frequency	Mgmt	Three Years	One Year

Voter Rationale: A vote for the adoption of an ANNUAL say-on-pay frequency is warranted. Annual say-on-pay votes are considered a best practice as they give shareholders a regular opportunity to opine on executive pay.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board and the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. In addition, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, the CEO received a sizable retention grant in addition to his annual LTI award, resulting in significantly elevated pay. Further concerns exist regarding the structure of performance-based equity awards and a lack of disclosure surrounding annual and long-term performance targets and achievements. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. 	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

-----------------	---------------	-----------	----------	------------------

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the dual-class capital structure, the classified board structure, and the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

1.9	Elect Director Matthew K. Rose	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: We have continued concerns around governance oversight. The company does not allow shareholder proponents to present a live shareholder proposal by telephone at its annual meeting for the third consecutive year, contrary to SEC guidance encouraging issuers to provide shareholder proponents with the ability to present their proposals through alternative means, such as by phone, during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. We expect companies holding virtual only meetings to offer the same access shareholders would receive had they attended the meeting in person. We are holding the Chair of the Governance committee responsible.
2	Ratify Ernst & Young LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
5	Require Independent Board Chair	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: Appointing a fully independent chairman creates a balance of power that is more conducive to long-term performance. A board headed by management cannot reasonably provide the best oversight and evaluation of management's performance.
6	Report on Congruency of Political Spending with Company Values and Priorities	SH	Against	For
	Voter Rationale: The company provides reasonable disclosure of its political donations. However, it should enhance transparency around its public policy priorities, as well as its key relationships with trade associations that engage on lobbying on its behalf.

Voter Rationale: For controlled companies, the board should include at least 33% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, directors with significant business ties to the company are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

Voter Rationale: The lack of a robust anti-pledging policy is concerning and raises questions about audit committee effectiveness in carrying out its risk oversight function. Voter Rationale: For controlled companies, the board should include at least 33% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we will still oppose this nominee because, the lack of a robust anti-pledging policy is concerning and raises questions about audit committee effectiveness in carrying out its risk oversight function. We encourage the committee to adopt a policy ideally prohibiting or severely restricting the pledging of company shares by executives. Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Also, executive directors are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. In addition, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Voter Rationale: Variable remuneration and equity incentives should not be granted to non-executive directors as this may compromise their independence and ability to hold management accountable. Also, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, the company should put in place a procedure which would enable it, should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions on the part of any of its executive directors and other key managers which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders, to ensure that any funds wrongfully obtained in such manner are repaid to it.

Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we will still oppose this nominee because executive pay is not in line with company performance because the company has not adequately responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote results. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Lastly, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years.

	Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Likewise, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Lastly, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: The company should reduce director terms and implement either staggered election cycles or, ideally, annual re-elections, in order to facilitate a more dynamic board refreshment process. In addition, a vote AGAINST the discharge of the supervisory board (Item 4) is considered warranted because: - On July 8, 2021, the European Commission found the German automakers (including BMW) guilty of collusion regarding restricting competition in emissions cleaning for new diesel passenger cars between 2009 and 2014. - Concerns are raised with respect to the fact that a culture existed within this company which led to collusion on technical matters with the other major German car manufacturers to the detriment of the company and its shareholders, as well as stakeholders worldwide. While no specific member of the company's management board or supervisory board has thus far been found guilty of misconduct or negligence, the fact remains that for many years, there existed a corporate culture that allowed for the described facts to happen. - Due to the symbolic nature of the discharge vote in Germany and the historical nature of the antitrust case, and because the discharge resolution is currently bundled, which does not allow shareholders to target individuals who may have been involved in failures of due diligence from 2009 until 2014.

Further, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. Moreover, substantial pay-outs under incentive schemes should only be available for superior performance. Reaching threshold targets may warrant vesting of only a small proportion of incentive awards.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Furthermore, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the dual-class structure, which adversely impacts shareholder rights.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board structure which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

1.1	Elect Director Peter (Pete) A. Bassi	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director.

Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, directors with significant business ties to the company are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

1.6	Elect Director John W. Coffey	Mgmt	For	Withhold

Voter Rationale: The lack of a robust anti-pledging policy is concerning and raises questions about audit committee effectiveness in carrying out its risk oversight function. We encourage the committee to adopt a policy ideally prohibiting or severely restricting the pledging of company shares by executives.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Furthermore, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. Lastly, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years.
3	Ratify Ernst & Young LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we will still oppose this nominee because, executives from acquired companies are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees and should be considered affiliated directors. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

-----	-------------------------------	------	-----	----------

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we are still voting against this nominee because changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given the board's failure to remove, or subject to a reasonable sunset requirement, the problematic capital structure, the classified board, and the pop-up supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Voter Rationale: The company has highlighted retention, recruitment, and operational uncertainty as the main reason for the changes made to the executive remuneration program for the year. While the pandemic has significantly impacted the company's operations and made target-setting difficult, the CEO's total pay has increased, the fully discretionary annual bonus has paid out at maximum, resulting in a payout of $6 million for the CEO, and a 100% time-based equity grant valued at nearly $7.5 million has been granted, raising pay for performance concerns. While we understand that the pandemic has made goal setting difficult, the reversion to what is essentially a fully time based, discretionary program is problematic. As such, we cannot support the proposal at this time and encourage the company to adopt a more conventional structure.

1.1	Elect Director Dan Quayle	Mgmt	For	Withhold

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given the problematic capital structure and the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights.

1.2	Elect Director Gregory Sullivan	Mgmt	For	Withhold

Voter Rationale: We expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given the problematic capital structure and the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

---	--	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

Additionally, the board has not provided any information on what the required satisfaction of 'certain other procedures and requirements to be determined by the Board in the future' would mean. The shareholder proposal at this meeting requests a 10% threshold for calling a special meeting, which we find supportable. 3	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. In addition, incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Moreover, this plan could lead to excessive dilution.

Voter Rationale: We expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future.

2	Ratify Deloitte & Touche LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Furthermore, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval.

These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
4	Approve Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against

These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.
5	Adopt Medium and Long-Term GHG Emissions Reduction Targets	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Climate change presents ongoing and serious risks to shareholder value. Chevron's targets remain misaligned with a 1.5C scenario due to the failure to adequately address scope 3 emissions. The 2028 target is clearly inadequate and does not give us confidence the company is responding to shareholders' wishes to address scope 3 emissions.
6	Issue Audited Net-Zero Scenario Analysis Report	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Climate change presents ongoing and serious risks to shareholder value. Chevron's disclosure lacks the detail and specifics to provide us with comfort that the company is adequately assessing these risks, thus we support this resolution calling for a more robust report.
8	Report on Business with Conflict-Complicit Governments	SH	Against	Abstain
Voter Rationale: Although we agree with the spirit of the proposal, at this time, we believe the company adequately discloses their processes in evaluating political, social, and human rights risks in conflict regions .
9	Oversee and Report a Racial Equity Audit	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: A racial equity audit would allow shareholders to better evaluate the company's management of potential racial equity or human rights concerns, including from pollution or GHG emissions, that are associated with its operations.
10	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Holders of significant share capital should be entitled to call a special meeting. A total holding requirement of 5% is a suitable threshold to prevent abuse.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Likewise, the lack of a robust anti-pledging policy is concerning and raises questions about audit committee effectiveness in carrying out its risk oversight function.&nbsp; We encourage the committee to adopt a policy ideally prohibiting or severely restricting the pledging of company shares by executives. Lastly, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Despite the overwhelming support for an annual say-on-pay frequency at the 2017 annual meeting, the company maintains a triennial frequency and did not include a say-on-pay proposal on the ballot. PEO pay was outsized and is expected to remain very high for 2022. While the primary component of pay was performance-based awards, it is expected for awards of this size that the performance goals are significantly more rigorous and that the company provides an expanded rationale as to how the size of the awards was determined. In addition, bonuses are largely discretionary.

Despite the overwhelming support for an annual say-on-pay frequency at the 2017 annual meeting, the company maintains a triennial frequency and did not include a say-on-pay proposal on the ballot. PEO pay was outsized and is expected to remain very high for 2022. While the primary component of pay was performance-based awards, it is expected for awards of this size that the performance goals are significantly more rigorous and that the company provides an expanded rationale as to how the size of the awards was determined. In addition, bonuses are largely discretionary.

2	Ratify KPMG LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. 	Voter Rationale: Severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

1.3	Elect Director Howard M. Lorber	Mgmt	For	Withhold

Voter Rationale: Executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents which adversely impacts shareholder rights.

1.4	Elect Director Robert J. Ivanhoe	Mgmt	For	Withhold

Voter Rationale: We expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our expectation is that there be at least one female director on the board for a company of this size. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents which adversely impacts shareholder rights.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. Furthermore, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Also, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Moreover, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

1.1	Elect Director Darcy G. Anderson	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.

6	Approve Remuneration Policy	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, all cash or share-based awards and payments that fall outside the company's remuneration policy should require ex-ante shareholder approval. Further, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors.

1.1	Elect Director Stephen Alarcon	Mgmt	For	Withhold
	Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Moreover, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. While CEO pay declined year-over-year, concerns are raised regarding poor disclosure of the annual incentive program and a lack of strongly performance-based pay. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. ---	--	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval.

	Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Furthermore, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs

7	Report on GHG Emissions Reduction Targets	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Climate change presents ongoing and serious long-term operational and regulatory risks that can impact shareholder value. The company should assess and set goals to address its greenhouse gas emissions. This is particularly important given the need for individual corporate action given the regulatory vacuum on this important issue in the United States.
8	Report on Lobbying Payments and Policy	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: The company provides reasonable disclosure of its political donations. However, it should enhance transparency around its public policy priorities, as well as its key relationships with trade associations that engage on lobbying on its behalf.

These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, plan renewal should be subject to shareholder approval. Moreover, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

	Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Furthermore, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Furthermore, this plan could lead to excessive dilution. Also, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: Incentive plans that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. In addition, the board imposed a forum selection clause without prior shareholder approval. The corporate governance committee should oppose measures that restrict investors' access to courts, and reverse the measure or, at the very least, put the matter to an investor vote.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Likely, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Furthermore, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: We expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Given that the number of female directors has increased since the last AGM, we will keep this matter under review. Although we commend the company on meeting a number of CA100+ net zero benchmark criteria, we wish to see CA100+ companies disclose detailed strategies that clarify how the company will execute medium- and long-term decarbonization targets. The company may wish to consider setting Paris-aligned interim GHG reduction targets in this effort. Consequently, we will hold the Corporate Governance Chair responsible as environmental sustainability strategy and goal setting is a key responsibility for this committee at Delta.

Voter Rationale: The board should submit directors for re-election individually, rather than as a single slate and ensure that there is sufficient level of independence on the board. Moreover, executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time. Furthermore, the remuneration committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Likewise, the nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Consequently, in the context of increasingly complex international accounting standards, the audit committee benefits from members who have a good and recent understanding of the accounting rules and of the audit process. Lastly, the board should appoint a Lead Independent Director to establish appropriate checks and balances on the Board, support the Chairman, ensure orderly succession process for the Chairman, and act as a point of contact for shareholders, non-executive directors and senior executives where normal channels of communication through the board Chairman are considered inappropriate.

1.1	Elect Director Brian "Skip" Schipper	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: Executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time. Furthermore, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. On early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

Voter Rationale: Former employees or company founders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

---	--	------	-----	---------

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Additionally, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Furthermore, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Also, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Given the company's persistent poor compensation practices. In addition to long-standing compensation concerns, the board recently entered into a new employment agreement with CEO Zaslav which contains a problematic severance arrangement and provides for approximately $200 million in stock options, in addition to his annual compensation. Also, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a reasonable sunset requirement, the dual-class capital structure and the classified board, which adversely impacts shareholder rights. In addition, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Given that the departure was recent, we will keep the matter under review. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

1.3	Elect Director Gail J. McGovern	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

4	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Holders of significant share capital should be entitled to call a special meeting. A total holding requirement of 5% is a suitable threshold to prevent abuse.
5	Revise Net Zero by 2050 Goal to Include Full Scope 3 Value Chain Emissions	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Climate change presents ongoing and serious risks to shareholder value. Additional information on the company's strategy and competitive positioning is merited. More than 40% of DTE's total disclosed emissions are Scope 3 (via purchased power and customer use natural gas emissions); therefore, we would like to see Scope 3 emissions included in interim and long-term emissions reduction targets. This proposal would remedy company's failure to set such targets.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the classified board and the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents, each of which adversely impact shareholder rights. Moreover, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, payouts under the bonus plan were above target and there is no disclosure of the metrics, goals, and actual achievements associated with bonus payouts. In addition, RSU grants in 2021 are subject solely to time-vesting.

1.1	Elect Director Richard E. Holbrook	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment.
1.2	Elect Director Deborah C. Jackson	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director.

2	Ratify KPMG LLP as Auditors	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
	Voter Rationale: The remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years.

2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

-----------------	---------------	-----------	----------	------------------

Voter Rationale: Directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders.. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, the board imposed a forum selection clause without prior shareholder approval. The corporate governance committee should oppose measures that restrict investors' access to courts, and reverse the measure or, at the very least, put the matter to an investor vote. 4	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. In addition, incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Moreover, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. Also, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. Moreover, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Furthermore, incentive awards to executives should include robust performance targets that reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time defined as at least three years. 	Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. 1.4	Elect Director Shawn D. Penner	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we are still opposing this nominee because changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. In addition, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, the remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance as this is considered to be rewarding under performance of peers. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Moreover, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.
3	Approve Omnibus Stock Plan	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Incentive plan features that allow for loans to exercise options are inconsistent with good practice and should be eliminated. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time.

16	Approve Remuneration Policy of Members of Management Board	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. Furthermore, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. Also, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period. Finally, the company should put in place a procedure which would enable it, should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions on the part of any of its executive directors and other key managers which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders, to ensure that any funds wrongfully obtained in such manner are repaid to it.

1.1	Elect Director Jane Lauder	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the multi-class capital structure, supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.
3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Furthermore, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Lastly, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders.

1.3	Elect Director Jaime Ellertson	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: The key issues raised in the Vote No Campaign include the failure to assess the CEO's incentives and potential flight risk in the face of a declining growth environment, and a lack of oversight of management's progress in integrating recent acquisitions. This suggests a loss of focus at the board level. In this particular case, Ellertson's long tenure (12 years) and prior role as CEO of Everbridge should have positioned him to carry out these responsibilities more effectively. Given that the Chair appears to bear direct responsibility for these issues, support is not warranted for this nominee.
1.4	Elect Director Bruns Grayson	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: The sudden impact on share price as a result of the departure of the CEO indicates a lack of succession planning on behalf of the board, a responsibility that would fall to the Chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee. As a result, support is not warranted for nominating committee Chair Bruns Grayson.

Voter Rationale: Directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.
Voter Rationale: The plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time Also, this plan could lead to excessive dilution.

Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our minimum expectation is that female directors comprise at least 25% of board members for a company of this size, with an aspiration to achieve 30% in the future. Moreover, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director.

9	Approve Remuneration of Directors in the Aggregate Amount of EUR 1 Million	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A vote AGAINST this item is warranted, as the proposed director fees can be considered excessive in relation to comparable domestic peers.
10.a2	Reelect Joel Citron as Director	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: In the context of increasingly complex international accounting standards, the audit committee benefits from members who have a good and recent understanding of the accounting rules and of the audit process.
10.a4	Reelect Jonas Engwall as Director	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The Company should put in place a policy to increase gender diversity on the board. Our expectation is that female directors should comprise at least 30% of the board.

14	Approve Remuneration Report	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Further, the company should put in place a procedure which would enable it, should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions on the part of any of its executive directors and other key managers which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders, to ensure that any funds wrongfully obtained in such manner are repaid to it.
18	Authorize the Board to Repurchase Warrants from Participants in Warrants Plan 2020	Mgmt	For	Against

4	Approve Discharge of Supervisory Board for Fiscal Year 2021	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The company should reduce director terms and implement either staggered election cycles or, ideally, annual re-elections, in order to facilitate a more dynamic board refreshment process.
6	Approve Remuneration Policy	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance. Moreover, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Further, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. Lastly, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period.
7	Approve Remuneration Report	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Substantial pay-outs under incentive schemes should only be available for superior performance. Reaching threshold targets may warrant vesting of only a small proportion of incentive awards. Moreover, remuneration committee should not allow vesting of incentive awards for below median performance. Additionally, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Further, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Likewise, companies should consider introducing deferral element and clawback provisions to the short- and long-term incentive schemes in line with market best practice. Lastly, companies should consider extending vesting periods for long-term incentive plans to 5 years or longer or as a minimum introduce an additional holding or deferral period.
8	Approve Creation of EUR 116.5 Million Pool of Authorized Capital with or without Exclusion of Preemptive Rights	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Any increase in capital of greater than 10% without pre-emption rights should be undertaken in exceptional circumstances only and fully justified by the company.

3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, significant salary increases should be linked to material changes in the business or in the role and responsibilities of executive directors
6	Amend Proxy Access Right	SH	Against	For
Voter Rationale: Shareholders should have the right to reasonable access to the proxy, including the nomination of directors to the board. Such a practice encourages greater accountability of directors to the shareholders whose interests they represent. Similar proxy access in other developed markets has not lead to problematic elections, as some companies fear.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, we will still oppose this nominee because former employees or company founders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, directors are expected to hold only a small number of directorships and ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their role properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. 	Voter Rationale: This plan could lead to excessive dilution. In addition, incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. Moreover, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Also, the plan improperly allows for accelerated vesting for an overly broad range of corporate restructuring scenarios and such provisions fail to reward performance. Rather, equity should be rolled forward into any successor company, or vest in a time-apportioned fashion only to the extent that performance conditions are met or if an executive loses his job.

Committee elections (Items 8.3.1 – 8.3.4) Votes AGAINST the non-independent nominees Vincent Albers, Eveline Saupper, and Andreas Schmid (non-voting member) are warranted due to insufficient committee independence. We note that the company has a combined nomination and compensation committee. As such, a vote AGAINST the incumbent committee member (and board chair), Andreas Schmid, is further warranted as a signal of concern to the board because the board is insufficiently gender diverse, excluding government representatives. However, a vote FOR the independent nominee Guglielmo Brentel is warranted due to lack of concerns.

8.3.4	Appoint Andreas Schmid as Non-Voting Member of the Nomination and Compensation Committee	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: Board elections (Items 8.1.1 – 8.2) Votes AGAINST the non-independent nominees, Andreas Schmid and Corine Mauch, are warranted because of the failure to establish a majority-independent board. As a result, a vote AGAINST Andreas Schmid as board chairman is also warranted. However, votes FOR the independent directors Guglielmo Brentel, Josef Felder, and Stephan Gemkow are warranted due to a lack of concerns. Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. In addition, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

1b	Elect Director Georgia Murray	Mgmt	For	Against

Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director.

Voter Rationale: Incentive awards to executives should be clearly disclosed and include robust and stretching performance targets to reward strong performance and drive shareholder value over a sufficiently long period of time. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Furthermore, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Also, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: Executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, due to a pay-for-performance misalignment. Bonuses paid out to NEOs were largely discretionary and LTI awards lack performance criteria, with RSUs granted to certain NEOs having a relatively short vesting period.

Voter Rationale: Former employees or company founders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees. Also, directors with significant business ties to the company are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, given the board's failure to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights Moreover, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Specifically, due to a pay-for-performance misalignment. Bonuses paid out to NEOs were largely discretionary and LTI awards lack performance criteria, with RSUs granted to certain NEOs having a relatively short vesting period. Furthermore, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, executive officers are expected to hold no more than one external directorships to ensure they have sufficient time and energy to discharge their roles properly, particularly during unexpected company situations requiring substantial amounts of time. Lastly, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Moreover, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.

The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Moreover, directors who are evaluated and compensated at other companies by directors on this board are not truly independent. This type of director interlock is poor practice. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Lastly, executive pay is not in line with company performance. The compensation committee should do more to respond to best practices in pay that help establish compensation packages that reward strong performance and build shareholder value over time. Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Moreover, directors who represent major shareholders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key committees as their interests may not be well aligned with the wider group of shareholders. The compensation committee should be independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Also, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. 2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. In addition, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. Given that there has been meaningful board refreshment during the year under review, support is warranted at this time and the matter will be kept under review. However, former employees or company founders are not sufficiently independent to serve on key board committees. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. 2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Furthermore, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Also, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action where a substantial proportion have expressed concerns over compensation practices in previous years. In addition, severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Voter Rationale: Changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the board failed to remove, or subject to a sunset requirement, the supermajority vote requirement to enact certain changes to the governing documents and the classified board, each of which adversely impacts shareholder rights. Also, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Moreover, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs.

Voter Rationale: Boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. Moreover, we expect companies to have policies in place to increase racial and gender diversity on the board. Our expectation is that there be at least one female director on the board for a company of this size.

Voter Rationale: The corporate governance committee has permitted a poison pill. The best defense against a take-over is strong management and a successful strategy. Where poison pills are adopted, they should be approved by shareholders prior to deployment, include independent oversight, and last for a limited time. Also, changes in company bylaws or articles of incorporation should not erode shareholders' rights and should be subject to shareholder approval. Specifically, the company's governing documents prohibit shareholders' ability to amend the company bylaws. In addition, the board should act with accountability to the investors it represents and take action on majority shareholder votes. 4	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	SH	Against	Abstain
Voter Rationale: While we generally believe holders of significant share capital should be entitled to call a special meeting and that a total holding requirement of 5% is a suitable threshold to prevent abuse, in this case the requested 10 percent ownership threshold may be too low for a company of this size as two company insiders would each be able to unilaterally call a special meeting at the proposed threshold.

	Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. In addition, a larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. Voter Rationale: On early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, the company should put clawback provisions in place to enable it to re-coup funds should it identify any facts of manipulation of reported indicators or other bad faith actions which were detrimental to the long-term interests of its shareholders. Furthermore, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

	Voter Rationale: While we note the changes in RSUs, ESG metric inclusion, and outreach conducted following the failed say-on-pay result last AGM, we remain concerned about several aspects of the company's executive compensation plan. Mainly, we've noted LTIP structural concerns regarding payout thresholds and incentivising underperformance over multiple AGM cycles. The Q&A disclosure appears to underscore additional LTIP concerns raised by fellow investors that remain unaddressed. Furthermore, we find it problematic that the company disclosed in a follow-up proxy solicitation that shareholders were not expecting significant modification of the compensation design after a failed say-on-pay the year prior.

Voter Rationale: Severance payments should not exceed two times annual pay. Larger severance packages should be subject to a separate shareholder approval. Also, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control. In addition, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. Moreover, companies should establish and disclose a policy on hedging of company stock by executives. Hedging activity by executives should be prohibited as it potentially severs management alignment with shareholder interest.

Voter Rationale: The plan's structure and pay-for-performance results are not sufficiently strong. Good practices include: well disclosed and stretching performance targets; performance triggers for equity awards; using different metrics for the short and long-term plans; measuring company outcomes against its appropriate peer group; and setting awards so that executives are not rewarded for below-average performance. These and other approaches will ensure that the compensation committee designs compensation packages that build shareholder value over time. Furthermore, all exceptional awards should be clearly linked to performance and demonstrate shareholder value creation in addition to and above that expected of directors as a normal part of their jobs. 1.1	Elect Director Thompson S. Dent	Mgmt	For	Withhold
Voter Rationale: For widely held companies, the board should include at least 50% independent non-executive directors to ensure appropriate balance of independence and objectivity. Furthermore, boards where more than a third of directors have served for more than 12 years lack balance. The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. In addition, this director is not sufficiently independent to serve as the independent lead director. Moreover, directors are elected in classes rather than annually, but shareholders should have the opportunity to communicate with directors regularly on their performance. The board should take immediate steps to declassify itself, thereby enhancing accountability.

The nominating committee should take action to ensure an appropriately fresh board and reduce the proportion of long standing directors to reduce the risk of entrenchment. Also, directors with long board tenures should not serve on committees that require absolute independence. The audit committee should be fully independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness. The nomination committee should be majority independent and this director's membership could hamper the committee's impartiality and effectiveness.
Voter Rationale: The company has engaged the same audit firm for more than 20 years. There is value for investors in gaining new perspectives on finances and controls. Companies that have had the same auditor for a long period of time should consider a plan or tender process for bringing in a new auditing firm, ideally every 10 years.
3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	For	Against
Voter Rationale: A larger percentage of the equity awards should be tied to performance conditions. At least 50% is a minimum good practice. In addition, on early termination, all share-based awards should be time pro-rated and tested for performance, including in the event of a change of control.
